Topic: BGE's EVsmart Program and Support for EV Charging and Adoption

Description With the rising adoption of electric vehicles, BGE is focused on supporting customers who desire to switch to driving electric while developing programs and strategies that reduce the impact large-scale adoption of electric vehicles will have on its distribution system. To that end, BGE has created the EVsmart suite of programs. Joe Picarelli of BGE's Utility of the Future group will review BGE's EVsmart program offerings for residential and commercial customers as well as BGE's vision for the utility's role in the future of transportation electrification.

Speaker: Joe Picarelli Senior Engineer – BGE Joe Picarelli is a Senior Engineer in BGE's Utility of the Future group supporting the implementation of BGE's EVsmart programs. Joe has been working in the electric vehicle field for 3 years, leading BGE's Public Charging Network and DOE Smart Charge Management programs as well as supporting BGE's long-term electrification goals. Prior to his work with BGE's Utility of the Future group, Joe worked for 7 years in other BGE organizations such as Emergency Preparedness, Gas Supply, and Engineering and Standards.
